

Creating project folder structure:

Organizing a project folder structure simplifies maintenance. It typically includes folders like /css, /js, and /images, with index.html as the root file to start the project.